

Wee Willie Winkie

Runs through the town,
Up stairs and down stairs
In his nightgown;
Tapping at the window,
Crying through the lock,
“Are the babies in their beds?
It’s past ten o’clock!”

